Texans Write Oppose Amendment Revising Of Old Age Assistance

Hundreds of letters from Texas citizens opposing the proposed Constitutional Amendment revising the payment of old age assistance are being received daily by Jim Cantrell of Princeton, Chairman of the campaign seeking to defeat the amendment on Nov 13th next.

Many of the letters are from men and women now recipients of old age pensions who realize that the opening of the pension rolls to foreigners and non-residents would cut down present pension payments.

"I am gratified by the response from all parts of Texas to our committee's plea that the old age pension amendment be defeated at the coming election on November 13th," Chairman Cantrell says. "This is a deceptive amendment and seeks to let down the bars to all comers to receive Texas old assistance. If it passes there will undoubtedly be a reduction in pension payments.

"I have received a letter from Hon. Grover Sellers of Sulphur Springs, former Attorney General of Texas, which support the contention of many other Texas attorneys that the proposed amendment abolishes all citizenship requirements and that foreigners and non-residents will flood the state pension rolls.

The proposed amendment could cause many aged persons from out side the State to move into Texas for the purpose of qualifying for assistance under our program. The amendment might well reduce the amount of assistance to be received by those citizens who now qualify, because it will take in large numbers who do not participate in present appropriations.

Reduced Fire Rates For Texans Next Year; Commissioner Says

Texans who buy fire insurance are benefitting from one of the nation's fairest and most equitable systems of setting insurance rates, Fire Insurance Commissioner Paul H. Brown said today.

Brown, who recently announced fire insurance rate reductions which will save Texans $2,303,000 during the next year said that the rate-making system used in this state is equitable because it treats everybody alike. If the people in one community pay a little less for their fire insurance than the people in another community it's because the system of setting rates rewards the towns with low fire losses and who enforce high standards of fire protection and building and electrical installations.

Virginia Pope Narrator For Dallas-Made Fashions At October Fair Park Show

Miss Virginia Pope

Miss Virginia Pope, the fashion editor of The New York Times and originator of the famous show "Fashions of The Times," will come to Dallas to commentate a fashion show for the Dallas Fashion Center, promotional association of 43 Dallas manufacturers, during October Market Week, October 28-November 2.

Entitled "Silhouette of Spring," the show will be staged in Fair Park Auditorium at 8 p.m. October 29. Rip Giersdorf's orchestra will play. The show will be followed by a night club party, sponsored by the Dallas Fashion Center and the American Fashion Association at 9:15 p.m. at the Automobile Building.

Long an advocate for recognition of significant creative markets in the national fashion industry, Miss Pope is no stranger to the Dallas Market. Her most recent coverage of Dallas-made fashions for The New York Times was during the first National Press Week at which the Dallas Fashion Center was host in March, 1951. She followed this trip—during which she gave the market daily coverage—with a special picture feature devoted to Dallas-made clothes in The Times Sunday Magazine.

Even before Dallas gained its status as a major fashion center, Miss Pope had pioneered fashion as big business news as well as news of interest to women. Just a year ago, in October, 1950, she put on the ninth edition of "Fashions of The Times," an annual production which won the acclaim of the nation. This will be the first fall since she originated "Fashions of The Times" that the spectacular show has not been seen at Times Hall by capacity crowds from coast to coast.

Miss Pope was born in Chicago and educated in Europe. Her European experiences gave her a command of French, German and Italian—a command that has served her well in her many trips to Europe to report on the high fashion collections and in her service with the Red Cross during World War I.

Her first career interest was the stage, for which she studied with the great French actress, Yvette Guilbert. She abandoned the stage to join the staff of The New York Times as a special feature writer on the Sunday staff. Nevertheless, she has been in full spotlight countless times. Her authority in the field of fashion and her spirited delivery have made her a foremost commentator on fashions.

Miss Pope was president of the New York Newspaper Women's Club for two consecutive terms in 1944 and 1945. She has twice been awarded for the best contributions in the woman's field in the New York Newspaper Women's Club annual competition. She was the first fashion editor to receive such a prize. She has held office and been a member of the board of directors of the Fashion Group.

Recently, Miss Pope was named "A Statesman of Industry," receiving the citation in the name of "Fashion Trades," a weekly publication for the women's apparel trades. Twenty-five citations were given, and Miss Pope was the only fashion editor thus honored.

Members of the Dallas Fashion Center presenting "Silhouette of Spring," include: Aaron Bros., Asbury Millinery Co., Brooks Uniform Co., Brogan & Jennings of Dallas, Chaiken Manufacturing Co., Chalet, Inc., Clockwise Fashions, Ike Clark Sportswear, Inc., Cohn Garment Co., Donovan Manufacturing Co., R. Smallest State Draft Called For December

State Selective Service headquarters today received the smallest state draft call since beginning of the United Nations military action in Korea.

The call, for December, asked for only 362 men, Brigadier General Paul L. Wakefield, state selective service director, said. Previously, the smallest call was for 367 men, levied in July.

State draft headquarters at the same time received an upward adjustment of its November call from 575 men to 665. General Wakefield said he understood the Marines had asked for more men for November.

The increase for November will cause local board quotas to be adjusted upward slightly at boards in the following communities:

Lufkin, Bryan, Ennis, LaGrange Fairfield, Gonzales, Marshall Sulphur Springs, Beaumont Local Board No. 74 only), Groesbeck, Cameron, Bowie, Nacogdoches, Livingston, Henderson, Center, Mt. Pleasant, Canton, Brenham, and Calvert.

General Wakefield said the December call would not be issued to local boards until "sometime during the latter part of October."

The state director said national Selective Service headquarters issued instructions with the December call directing that 60 per cent of the men delivered be sent during the first week of December, 20 per cent during the second week, and 20 per cent during the third week.

The December call brings the total called for in Texas since beginning of the Korean fight to 30,332. More than 75,000 men have been examined in Texas by the draft system since August 1950.

Reservists Induction No Longer Delayed

The regulations of the Selective Service System whereby members of the National Guard, Air National Guard, organized units of the Regular Army Reserve, Air Force Reserve, Enlisted Reserve Corps, Naval Reserve, Marine Corps Reserve Coast Guard Reserve or Public Health Service Reserve had their Armed Forces Physical examination or induction delayed have been changed.

The new regulation says that local boards shall postpone the induction of members of these organizations for the remaining period of his current enlistment, or for a period of one year, or until he attains the age of 25 years and 9 months, whichever is the shorter provided that his current enlistment was entered into after February 1, 1951 and before July 1, 1951, and prior to his having been ordered to report for armed forces physical examination. Also if the registrant's unit has been alerted he shall be postponed for induction during the period that the unit continues to be alerted.

The new regulation further provides that no postponement of induction shall be made or continued for a period to prevent any registrant from being inducted into the active armed forces prior to the 26th anniversary of the day of his birth.

Any registrant who becomes a member of any of the above organizations prior to February 1, 1951 or prior to attaining the age of 18 years and 6 months shall be classified I-D. Prior to the change in regulations, only registrants who became members prior to June 24, 1948 or prior to becoming 18 years and 6 months of age were eligible for I-D.

TB Death Rate Higher For Latin-Americans Program Scheduled

In response to requests from leaders in Spanish-speaking communities throughout Texas, the Texas Tuberculosis Association is producing a new series of education materials on TB Deaths from TB in Texas are seven times higher among Latin-Americans than among Anglo-Americans, and latest statistics on the incidence of TB indicate a serious need for educational programs directed to this particular group.

At a meetin in Austin last week of its Advisory Committee on Health Education among Spanish-speaking people, the Association announced a new three point program: (1) to prepare materials in Spanish for radio, pamphelts, and newspapers; (2) to outline for local TB organizations the uses to which these materials may best be put; and (3) to suggest ideas on how to reach Spanish-speaking groups with health education programs. The program is intended to promote greater participation in community X-ray surveys and wider understanding of personal hygiene in the prevention of disease.

FRIEND IN NEED

Ira was greatly worried about his rapidly thinning hair. "Looks as though I'm sure goin' to be bald before long," he said to the barber in a mournful voice. "Can't you suggest something to keep it in?" The barber looked a bit puzzled. "Well, now, I don't know that it makes much difference," he said soothingly, "but if you feel you want something fancy, I'll give you this here hand-painted matchbox to put it in'.'

CONSIDER the advantages of cooking electrically: It's clean! Your electric range gets its heat via wire. There's no smoke or soot to blacken pans, mar turtains, walls and cabinets.

It's fast! A turn of the switch and an electric range's high-speed cooking units are instantly ready for use.

It's dependable! Accurate temperature control that cuts on and off automatically, gives you the same good cooking results every time.

It's economical! . . . Cooking electrically costs less than one cent per person per meal. There's less food shrinkage, too, with draftless electric cooking.

It's safe! Electric cooking is match-less . . . there's no flame for drafts to bother, as easily operated as an electric light.

And that's only a sample of the good things to come. Once there's an electric range in your kitchen, you'll be saying, "Of course, I'd rather have an electric range . . . for me, there's no other!"

Only Electric Cooking gives you complete Cooking Pleasure

Rheumatic Heart Dis ease Heads List Fatal To Children

Rheumatic heart disease is now the first cause of death among children aged ten to fourteen, and is second only to tuberculosis at ages 15 to 25. Despite the importance of this disease it's cause and spread is not completely established. No vaccine such as those that prevent typhoid fever, diptheria, smallpox and whooping cough has yet been developed, for its prevention and control.

D. Geo. W. Cox, State Health Officer, points out that in general the danger signals of rheumatic fever are pain and swelling in the joints of the knees, ankles, elbows or wrists.

Yoemen Stampede Taylor Ducks In Conference Opener Friday Night

Taylor went home Friday night with nothing to talk about but next year, after the Cameron Yoemen had trampled them in a 54-0 foot race.

Revenge was sweet for the Yoemen who took a 28-7 trouncing at the hands of the Ducks last year.

Coach Paul Smith took the opportunity to give experience to his next year's team in the one sided battle. Only twice during the entire game did the Ducks penetrate into the Yoemen half of the field; once, on the first play of the game when they recovered an on-side kick. Here they were held to no yardage gained, with the Yoemen taking over on downs on their own 30, and starting a relentless ground drive that ended with Batte dashing across the double stripe from the Duck eleven yard line.

The only other time the Ducks passed the mid-stripe was in the fourth quarter when the Yoemen drew a 15 yard penalty for roughing. They stayed in the Yoemen end of the field for only four plays, finally punting from the Cameron 46.

Every man in uniform on the Yoeman team played and every team scored. Speed, experience and drive took a terrible toll on weight, inexperience and sluggishness.

Touchdowns, in order, were marked up by Batte, Thompson, Rosenberg, Langford Rosenberg, Thompson, Biskup and Biskup .

Cameron made 21 first downs to Taylor's 5. The Yoemen attempted one pass and completed one, Leonard to Polansky for eight yards.

The Ducks attempted 10 passes and completed 2 for a total of 33 yards.

Farm To Market Roads Secondary At Recent Hearing In Austin

The monthly public hearings of the Texas Highway Commission make a pretty good barometer of current thinking by road boosters throughout the state.

An analysis of the presentations made by seventeen delegations attending September hearings show that Texans are becoming more concerned with their primary high ways than they were a few years ago.

It would take about $12 million to give each of the groups the specific roads they wanted.

Only five of the seventeen delegations wanted to talk about farm-to-market roads. The remainder urged widening and reconstruction of their man inter-city routes.

Future Homemakers Attend State Fair; Trip Educational

The Future Homemakers of the Yoe High Chapter attended the State Fair of Texas in Dallas, Saturday, October 6, 1951.

The sponsors for the 81 girls were: Mrs. Wiese, our honorary member; Mrs. Hensley, a Chapter Mother; and Mrs. Whatley, our Homemaking teacher.

LeRoy Thompson drove the bus for the FFA boys making it possible for the girls to have two buses driven by Mr. Hollas and Mr. Cooper.

The group left at 5:00 a. m., and arrived at about 10:45 a. m. We had a full day of fun and enjoyment. At 11:00 a. m., a free lunch of hamburger, candy and punch were served to all the Future Homemakers over Texas. After a very tiring trip to the Fair we were certainly hungry for a tasty lunch. This made the dinner extra special.

There were many educational buildings for the homemaking girls. Some of the most interesting were the foods building, the clothing building, and the Hall of State.

It was really untellable of the many, many, buses that were in the bus lot. By the end of the day every one had had a swell time and something new to bring back to Cameron.—Reporter.

Old Man Winter's On The Way, So Better Get Your Home Ready for Cold Weather

REMEMBER those shivery, bone-chilling, below-zero days of last winter? Seems like a long time ago. But your calendar tells you winter is just around the corner again. So now is the time to get your town home or farm house ready for cold weather.

Cracks and crevices around your windows and doors should be specially checked. That's where cold wintry drafts seep in. A lot of heat is lost through the glass itself, too.

You can protect your family against uncomfortable cold and dangerous drafts this winter, by tacking on low-cost, transparent, flexible window materials that keep out the cold, hold in the heat and cut down fuel bills.

Available at your local hardware and lumber dealer, these materials can be quickly made into storm doors and windows, or used for closing in exposed porches. All you do is cut the material to size with shears and tack on over screens. This saves you from changing screens, protects the screens during the winter and turns a wind swept porch into an extra warm, usable room.

Severe tests under widely varying weather conditions in five special test stations from Alaska to Florida, according to Harold Warp, leading manufacturer of window materials, have proved that this inexpensive method will keep the house cozy, warm and freer from drafts, even on the coldest days. Fuel costs have been cut up to 40 per cent in homes where these window materials have been installed.

These shatterproof materials are cheaper than glass. A window can be made winterproof for about $1.25; a door for $1.50. The savings on fuel bills alone could make up this low cost the first season.

Easy to keep clean, these flexible window materials can be quickly taken off in the spring, rolled up and used next fall. Properly put up and cared for, they will last many seasons.

Local Men Attend Hearing On Flood Control, Conservation

L. G. Smith, manager of the Chamber of Commerce, and Sam White, active member of the hamber, attended a meeting on Flood Control and Conservation at Gatesville, Friday, October 12.

Secretary of Agriculture, Charles Brannon, told some 500 people attending the hearing on flood control and conserdvation that it will require about 15 years to complete the flood control and conservation measures planned for the Little River Water Shed.

Secretary Brannon was a witness at the hearing held in Gatesville, Friday, October 12, 1951, conducted by the House subcommittee on Agriculture of which Congressman W. R. Poage is chairman. This meeting was for the purpose of allowing this subcommittee to inform the people of activities planned for a control of floods and to conserve the soil and water.

Congressman Poage pointed out the chief difficulty of the flood control and conservation program was to get the people living in areas that are in the originating points of flood waters to realize the value of dams being constructed below their areas.

The dams must be constructed in areas where they can serve as barrier to control the waters that come from other rivers and streams Congressman Poage stated.

Other members of Congress attending the hearing were: Representatives Carl Albert of Oklahoma, Took Gathings of Arkansas, Harold Lovre of South Dakota, Charles Hoven of Iowa, Cliff Hope of Kansas, and Clark Thompson of Galveston, Texas. Mr. Walter Hammond President of the Texas Farm Bureau and Lewis P. Merrill regional director of the Soil Consevation, also appeared on the program.

Mr. and Mrs. E. L. Smith and Mr. and Mrs. Bob Blackstone of Austin were week end guests of Mrs. M. H. Butts. Mrs. Smith is a daughter of Mrs. Butts.

Mrs. Louis De La Rosa who had an operation at St. Edward Hospital last week is improving nicely and has returned to her home.

Yoelets To Meet Temple "B" Team In Temple Thursday

The Cameron "B" team will clash with the Temple "B" squad at the Temple Stadium, Thursday night, October 18, according to Coach Don Ross.

This is the second encounter for the two teams this season. They defeated the Yoelets by a score of 18-0, three weeks ago on the local field.

Coach Ross said his boys were in tip-top condition and have had an extra week lay off since the Taylor game was cancelled last week, due to illness of a number of the Taylor men.

The Temple team runs off the unbalanced line single wing. The Yoelets run off the T and spread formations.

Jimmy Rettig and Arnold Warren looked good in workouts this week, Coach Ross added.

Mr. and Mrs. O. L. Baldridge and family visited Miss Edith Baldridge, student at Mary-Hardin Baylor in Belton Sunday.

Methodist Home At Waco Will Present Program Sunday Morn

The fifth of a series of 13 radio programs entitled "These Are Your Children" will be broadcast at 8:15 a. m., October 21, over the Texas Quality Network and 12 other stations in Texas and New Mexico.

The Quarter-hour presentations each Sunday morning are offered to better acquaint people of the Southwest with the life of the more than 400 children who live at the Methodist Home, Waco, Texas, according to Hubert Johnson, home superintendent.

Each of the programs is devoted to some particular phase of activities at the Methodist Home—how the children are taken from parentless, broken or poverty stricken homes, how they're clothed, fed and sheltered; the work experiences they receive and their educational and religious guidance.

"Because peace needs our united strength-
Defense is our job, too!"
SAYS CLAUDETTE COLBERT

THESE are days when danger never sleeps—when only our power keeps our country safe.

That's why I say now, with all my heart—let's not relax! Defending America, and the blessings it gives us, is the most important job we have today!

Already three and a half million young Americans are doing their part in our armed forces. But defense is our job, too

And one very important way we can all do a defense job is by buying our country's Defense Bonds. For bonds and other forms of saving are a protection for our homes and our families. They back up our military force with solid citizens and a sound economy.

They give America strength—and we all know by now that today peace is only for the strong!

Buy Defense Bonds every month.
Now they earn interest 10 years longer:

Don't forget that bonds are now a better buy than ever. Because now every Series E Bond you own can automatically go on earning interest every year for 20 years from date of purchase instead of 10 as before! This means that the bond you bought for $18.75 can return you not just $25—but as much as $33.33! A $37.50 bond pays $66.66. And so on. Remember, bankers recommend U. S. Defense Bonds as one of the safest forms of investment.

Make today your D day buy an extra bond for Defense

Get in on the "D" Drive.
Buy an extra Defense Bond today!

This month you have a special opportunity to do something important for defense and for peace. Just sign up to buy an extra United States Defense Bond today during the great Defense Bond Drive. Then go on buying Defense Bonds regularly through your Payroll Savings Plan or the Bond-A-Month Plan where you bank. You'll be on the right road to financial independence. You'll be patriotically helping America.

And you'll be joining 83,000,000 other good Americans who already own more than 57 billion dollars in Defense Bonds! People who know that money put into U. S. Defense Bonds is in the world's safest place—for bonds are as safe as America herself.

There is no safer investment in the world today
U. S. Defense Bonds!

The U. S. Government does not pay for this advertising. The Treasury Department thanks, for their patriotic donation, the Advertising Council and

A Tribute--
To Our Old Folks!

The Modern Generation, with its verve for life and its understandable foibles, is likely to discount kindly wrinkles and silver hair. The world moves on. The new is ever new and the old is always old. Yet what stability and treasurehouses of life's knowledge those Older Folks represent. Thy have lived and are living. Life has taught them patience and understanding and the most reasonabe way to buffet problems. Friendly and comforting as the giant oak which once was a tiny acorn, these sane and seasoned oldsters comprise the enduring basis for the well-being of our community.

Rabid Situation Becomes Alarming Five Mad Dogs Killed In City

An effort to control rabies in the immediate area has begun and necessary enforcement will be carried out, according to the Mayor, A. N. Green.

Within the past several weeks five mad dogs have been killed in the city limits and there is a great possibility that a large number of other dogs in the city were inoculated with rabies from these dogs, and the situation has become alarming in that the public is endangered by all dogs running loose.

Dr. Kenneth Young, of the State Health Department of Austin, was in Cameron two days this week, contacting city authorities and other civic leaders, about the danger of the situation that exists in Cameron. He said that the rabid situation in Cameron was one of the worst in the state of Texas, and something should be done immediately as there was great danger of a severe outbreak of rabies in this area. He made talks to the school children and civic clubs and told the members of the Board of Aldermen and Mayor at a called meeting of the City Council Thursday evening, that something must be done at once.

The City Council enacted the following provisions to be enforced:

"All dogs are to be penned up for a period of ninety days; those caught running loose will be impounded for a period of five days and if the owner does not call for his dog, it will be destroyed; this is effective after Saturday, October, 13, 1951.

It was generally agreed this is the only way to bring the rabid situation under control here. There is an ad in connection with this article in the DAILY MIDGET TODAY.

Easier Childbirth

For all their advances medicine and chemistry have not been able to abolish the pain of childbirth. Since 1847, when ether was first used as an anesthetic during labor, physicians have been searching for better pain-killers for use in obstetrics. Notable advance was made in 1902 with the introduction of morphine and scopolamine. In succeeding years there were many other drugs, but none of them were ideal.

Now, Dr. Henry G. La Forge of the University of Buffalo Medical School reports that a new laboratory-made drug, Nisentil, is the most successful pain-killer yet found and "an improvement over any analgesic drug heretofore available."

Dr. La Forge reported that 1,000 women were given hypodermic injections of Nisentil. Results showed that "the drug definitely relieves pain and anxiety of labor," shortens its duration, acts rapidly and has little or no undesirable effects on either mother or child.
